HOLY MASS

The Catholics of Monitor and surrounding district had the opportunity of attending Holy Mass on Sunday last, in the Big Hall Monitor, Rev. Father Currier of Consort being the priest. While the attendance was small owing to the fact that a great many in the country did not know of the occasion, it is hoped that the Hall will be filled the next time. The date of the next Mass will be published in the paper in plenty of time so that all can make arrangements to be present. This is the first time Mass was held in Monitor on Sunday, and Catholics are very grateful for the fact that a priest is so near to them now as Consort. For many years the nearest priest was stationed at Castor and at times many inconveniences were caused in getting the priest in case of sickness, etc.

Father Currier, the priest at Consort, was ordained to the Holy Priesthood by the Rt. Rev. M. F. Fallon, D.D., in the St. Peter's Cathedral, London, Ont. May 21, 1921, and read his first Solemn Mass in St. Francis Church, Tilbury Ont. He was the sent to Edmonton from where he was transferred to the church at Consort in Aug. 1921.

Father Currier, before going to College, spent several years in this part of Alberta, his folks now residing at Wainwright.

While here on Sunday he announced the coming of the Bazaar to be given by the ladies of the Consort Church early in December, for the addition to the church and a residence for the priest. He asks all those who can, to send something or make a donation towards the Bazaar to help make it a success.

While it is still two months till Xmas, it will be well to remember this in connection with the selecting of Christmas gifts. (contributed)

There will be an Auction Sale on Saturday afternoon, Oct. 1st at 1 o'clock, on Main St.

Stove, Heater, Chiffonier, Cot, Lawn Hammock, Crib, Couch, Mantel Clock, House Plants, Wardrobe, Lamps, etc., etc.

The first week in November a full list of said lands may be found in the Monitor News and the Consort Enterprise or a list of the said lands may be obtained on application to me.

Local Happenings

Dora Childress was a visitor in Calgary this week.

W. F. Hargrove attended a school meeting, in Coronation, last week.

There was a heavy shower of rain on Monday afternoon and threshing operations were held up again for a short time.

Given good weather, another week or ten days will see the completion of the threshing in this district.

There are seven threshing outfits running, within a very short distance of each other, up on the high land five miles east of town.

Monitor Chautauqua Oct. 12-14

Mrs. L. O. Gould and Mrs. M. Barker were visitors up in Coronation last week.

Swiss Bell Ringers, Monitor Oct. 3rd.

Mrs. M. S. Earl and infant son returned home on Tuesday.

Miss Guthrie, Birmingham, Eng., arrived here on Tuesday and will reside with her niece, Mrs. Jack McTavish, south of town.

As the threshing season goes along the yields per acre reported from day to day are on the increase. The best returns yet are from the farm of C. (Pat) Stewart, a few miles s. w. of town. Pat's wheat averaged 38 bushels to the acre and will grade No. 1.

Leo Beebe's next in line, his wheat making an average of 31 bushels per acre.

Roy Chamer had a nice stand of rye which threshed out at 24 bushel to the acre.

There were good attendances at the Harvest Thanksgiving Services at Basin Lake, Hillanvale and in Monitor on Sunday last. Thanks are given to all who helped to decorate for these services. The violin accompaniments of Miss Peggy Muley in St. Laurence Church were much appreciated.

St. Laurence W. A. will meet (D. V.) on Thursday afternoon Sept. 29th, at 2.30 at the home of Mrs. Jim Hayes. A full attendance is requested.

Divine Service, as usual, in St. Laurence Church on Sunday next, Oct. 2nd, at 7.30 p. m.

Word was received during the week of the death of Artie Stewart, at Exeter, Cal., on Saturday. He is a brother of Ted and Claude (Pat) Stewart, and the sympathy of the district is extended to them in their bereavement.

Miss R. Cameron played the violin accompaniments at the Sunday evening service in the Co-operative Church.

A Deplorable Crime

On Tuesday afternoon a detestable crime was committed at the farm of C. K. Low about 8 miles S. E. of Consort when two women who live nearby forced their way into the home of Mrs. James Butner and gave her a rough handling from the effects of which she is now in a serious condition. The cause of this affair seems to date back several months when Mr. and Mrs. Butner were driving home from town late at night and saw one of their neighbors, V. Souquist, hauling wheat at an unreasonable hour and from an unknown location. Later on this party was taken up for stealing wheat and at the first hearing the Butners did not make known what they had seen and the case was dismissed, however it was not dropped entirely and about two months ago more evidence was secured and another hearing held, Butner's then giving their evidence the result was that this party was put under bonds to stand trial this fall.

Mr. Butner was in town on Tuesday afternoon and returned late at night. He heard a peculiar racket in the house as soon as he reached the yard and went in at once. Mrs. Butner was on the bed crying and screaming and he could not get any satisfactory statement from her whatever but the little boy, aged about three years, who was also crying and in a very excited state finally told him some women were trying to kill his mother.

From what could be gathered it seems that a sister of the party accused of stealing wheat and his wife were the ones responsible in this affair.

There is an occasional suggestion of tar and feathers, however Const. Forrester is on the scene. —Consort Enterprise

The West and Redistribution

It is altogether probable that, even before the present issue of this paper reaches its readers, the Dominion Parliament will be dissolved and writs issued for a new Parliament whose legal span of life will run until 1927 unless, because of some exceptional circumstance, it is deemed advisable to consult the people before that year.

In compliance with the terms of the constitution of Canada a census of the population was taken in the month of June last. It is also provided by the constitution that upon the completion of such census the representation of the several Provinces in the House of Commons shall be readjusted in such manner as to give to each Province equality of representation based on population such readjustment to become effective upon the termination of the then existing Parliament.

It is admitted by all people in Canada, from Premier Meighen down, that that portion of Canada west of the Great Lakes, will be shown to be entitled to a larger representation than it now enjoys, and the fact is equally well recognized that Canada east of the Great Lakes will not be entitled to quite as many representatives as it now has.

Nevertheless, although it would require only a few months more to compile and tabulate the 1921 figures of population and thus make possible an early and fair readjustment of the representation of the Provinces in the House of Commons, Parliament is hastily dissolved, although no new or sudden issue has arisen, and writs for a new Parliament issued which will result in Canada for the next five years being governed by a House of Commons which is not truly representative of the country.

The action taken may be constitutional within the strict meaning of the law, but it seems a violation of the spirit of the constitution. Yet it is not the first time this has happened in Canada. In fact ever since the population of the West began to increase so rapidly, while the population of Ontario and the Maritime Provinces failed to keep pace with Quebec's increase in population, there has been a tendency at Ottawa to precipitate general elections in the year of the census taking right on the eve of redistribution but before making it effective.

Let us take a historical glance back over the past thirty years and the last three census enumerations. In 1891 the House of Commons consisted of 215 members representing the Provinces as follows: Ontario 92, Quebec 65, Nova Scotia 21, New Brunswick 16, Prince Edward Island 6, Manitoba 5, British Columbia 6, North West Territories 4. This was a census year but instead of a redistribution bill being passed before going to the country, Parliament was dissolved, the issue being Reciprocity with the United States. It was not until five years later that the country secured the benefits of the readjustment which was really due in 1891.

The next census came in 1901, but a general election had been held the preceding year, but as the result of the previously delayed redistribution Ontario was entitled to only 86 members instead of 92, the three Maritime Provinces lost 8, while Manitoba doubled its quota from 5 to 10, the North West Territories from 4 to 11, and British Columbia added one. In 1906 the new Provinces of Alberta and Saskatchewan were created, Saskatchewan being given 10 members and Alberta 7. This additional representation became effective in 1908.

While the figures of the census of 1911 were being tabulated, Reciprocity with the United States again became a live issue and an Agreement signed with the United States came before Parliament for ratification. Strong opposition developed in Eastern Canada and the Opposition obstructed and blocked the passage of the bill. The Government thereupon appealed to the country, and once again the West was deprived of its rightful representation on a question in which it was vitally interested, while the East was allowed a representation to which it was not justly entitled.

War broke out in 1914 and by agreement the life of the Parliament elected in 1911 was extended and it was not until 1917, therefore that the people secured the benefits of the representation to which they were really entitled in 1911. That long delayed readjustment further reduced Ontario's representation to 82, a loss of 10 members in two decades; Nova Scotia dropped to 16, a loss of 5 in the same period; New Brunswick fell to 11, a loss of 5; P.E.I. to 3, or only one-half what it had in 1891. On the other hand Manitoba increased to 15, or three times its representation in 1891; Saskatchewan got 16 and Alberta 12, as compared with 4 for the N.W.T. in 1891; British Columbia was accorded 15 as compared with 6 in 1891; and the Yukon was given one.

In other words, although the membership of the House of Commons only increased from 215 in 1891 to 244 on the strength of the census of 1911, the representation west of the Great Lakes rose from 15 to 57, while the representation east of the Great Lakes fell from 200 to 177.

It is generally agreed, both East and West, that the same evolution in the political power of the country is taking place; that is, that the representation of the West will be increased and that of the East decreased when the final figures for 1921 are tabulated. It means that for one-half of the whole period during which the readjusted representation should be in effect the West will be under-represented.

Scottish Castle Sold

Has Secret Chamber and Walls Ten Feet Thick.

Viscount Cowdray has bought the estate of Castle Fraser, Donshire, Aberdeenshire, for £18,000. Castle Fraser is reputed to be one of the finest specimens of the Flemish style of architecture in Scotland.

The castle has a secret chamber in which the master of the house could overhear the conversation of his guests in the dining hall. This is supposed to have suggested to Sir Walter Scott a similar contrivance in "The Fortunes of Nigel." Walls throughout the building, which stands upon arches, are from 6 feet to 10 feet thick.

Many Uses For Paper.

In the art of making and using paper we are not in line with the Chinese and other Asiatics, who not only make the finest paper in the world, but apply it to all sorts of uses, making window panes, umbrellas, fans, sandals and even cloaks and garments of it.

The Many-Purpose Oil.—Both in the house and stable there are scores of uses for Dr. Thomas' Eclectic Oil. Use it for cuts, bruises, burns, scalds, the pains of rheumatism and sciatica, sore throat and chest. Horses are liable very largely to similar ailments and mishaps as afflict mankind, and are equally amenable to the healing influence of this fine old remedy which has made thousands of firm friends during the past fifty years.

A Disappearing Island.

One of the most famous of disappearing islands is Expedition Island, situated off the northwest corner of Australia, and which was visited as lately as 1892. Today it has disappeared, and is now fifty feet below water. The island was 13 miles long and famous for its beauty.

"I see you have a new hired man, Ezra," said Ellen Potter. "How is he doing?"

"Resting considerably easier than the other one did, thank ye!" replied the disgusted farmer.

A Growing Union

Movement in Progress to Extend Union of South Africa.

The Union of South Africa, over which General Smuts presides, contains four provinces, but is only a third larger than British Columbia, or two-thirds the area of Quebec. The movement now in progress for the annexation of the colony of Rhodesia, at present administered by the British South Africa Company, would nearly double the area of the Union by adding 450,000 square miles to the 473,000 now administered by the Union Government. It would add 1,500,000 to the native population, with some 40,000 Europeans.

The Government of Mr. Smuts is also administering the former German protectorate of West Africa, an estate of 320,000 square miles, with a small European population and several hundred thousand natives. The number of the natives was greatly reduced, and some races nearly exterminated during the German occupation. General Smuts is thus likely to have under his jurisdiction 1,200,000 square miles of territory, with a 600 square miles of territory, with a total population not much less than that of Canada.—The Daily Province.

BARELY LIVED THROUGH IT

A terrible experience had Edw. J. O'Connor, of Sault Ste. Marie, from boyhood he writes: "I have been a constant sufferer from Asthma and Catarrh. My nose and throat was often stopped up, and I had disagreeable droppings from my throat. When an attack of coughing came on, it seemed as if I would barely live through it. I would gasp for breath. Catarrhoxone made me well. It's soothing healing action was exactly suited to my case." To those who suffer from Catarrh, Asthma, Throat Irritation and Bronchitis, Catarrhoxone is highly recommended. Two months treatment, one dollar, smaller size 25 cents. All dealers or The Catarrhoxone Co., Montreal.

Snub From Argentine Government.

A Reuter's message from Buenos Aires states that the Argentine Government has declined to receive Laurence Gifford officially as the representative of the British Consulate. "The Foreign Minister, however, received him at his residence in a private capacity."

DELICATE GIRLS NEED NEW BLOOD

Rich, Red Blood Means Health and Strength.

The anemia of young girls may be induced, or it may be caused by bad air, unsuitable food, habits and irregular eating, insufficient out-of-door exercise and not enough rest and sleep.

It comes on gradually, beginning with languor, indisposition to mental or bodily exertion, irritability and a feeling of fatigue. Later comes the paleness of the face, headaches, dizziness following a stooping position, frequent backaches and breathlessness. In a majority of cases constipation is present. There may be no great loss of flesh, but usually the complexion takes on a greenish-yellow pallor.

Cases of this kind, if neglected, become more serious, but if taken in time there is no need to worry. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, which are free from any harmful or habit-forming drug, are just the tonic needed to remedy this wretched state of health. Though it is not noticeable, improvement begins with the first dose. As the blood is made rich the pallor leaves the face, strength and activity gradually return and the danger of relapse is very slight.

If any symptom of anemia appears, prudence suggests that Dr. Williams' Pink Pills should be given at once, and the sooner they are taken the more speedily will their action improve the blood. You can get these pills through any dealer in medicine, or by mail at 60 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

A Pertinent Question

Why Did Kaiser Run If Troops Were Never Vanquished.

With his old-time grandiloquence the former German Kaiser sent a message to the Junker meeting held by his son and Ludendorff in Berlin recently, in which he exclaimed: "With proud and warm gratitude I think today of my brave comrades, never vanquished in the field." But if they were "never vanquished in the field" why is it that the puerile partner of "Me and God" so unceremoniously skeddaddled from the field and scurried into hiding in Holland, whence he has never dared poke his head across the border since?—Louisville Courier-Journal.

Used an old razor for parting his combs. Result: blood poisoning. A bottle of Putnam's Painless Corn Extract which for fifty years has been removing corns and warts without pain. No failure if you use "Putnam's." Refuse a substitute. 25c everywhere.

Rooms With Baths Are Scarce.

In London and Paris there are several hotels which have rooms with private baths, but there are very few. It is always an extra even when used with cold water. Hot water is difficult to obtain in winter, and in some hotels, where it is worked by a slot machine attached to a gas meter, the guest has to feed it with 20 cents for every quart of water.

Paring a corn is both risky and ineffective. It is much better to use Holloway's Corn Remover and eradicate them entirely.

Steel Shipped By Airplane

Was Required in a Hurry For London Depot.

Two cwt. of steel were conveyed from Manchester to London by aeroplane for use in connection with the completion of the steel work construction of the new depot of the London General Omnibus Company at Chiswick, W. The aeroplane, an Avro, was chartered by Lamborne and Co., Ltd., Victoria Steel Works, Openshaw, Manchester, who are responsible for the work, the steel being urgently required for certain vital parts of the building. The machine left Manchester at 9 a.m., reached Croydon, London, at noon, and by about four o'clock the steel was in position at the new depot.

A Remedy for Earache.—To have the earache is to endure torture. The ear is a delicate organ and few care to deal with it, considering it work for a doctor. Dr. Thomas' Eclectic Oil offers a simple remedy. A few drops upon a piece of lint or medicated cotton and placed in the ear will do much in relieving pain.

Hutchinson, Kas., claims to be the largest exclusive hard wheat market in the world. Nearly 100,000,000 bushels of hard wheat will be marketed through the Hutchinson elevators this year.

Industrial Ontario

Has More Than 50 Per Cent. of Dominion's Manufacturing Plants.

Ontario is the richest province of Canada. Of the Dominion's wealth, estimated at 2,801,000,000 for the year just past, Ontario's share was $1,267,000,000. Consistent with the remainder of the Dominion, agriculture asserts its superiority over other lines of activity and maintains the premier place in provincial assets. Ontario is, however, the first industrial province of Canada, considerably more than fifty per cent. of the product of the Dominion's manufacturing plants being attributable to this province.

LETTER FROM MRS. WAKELIN

Tells Remarkable Story of Sickness and Recovery.

Toronto, Ont.—"I suffered greatly from weakness, seemed to be tired all the time, and had no ambition to do anything or go any place. My nerves were in bad shape, I could not sleep at night, and then came a breakdown. I read of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound in the newspapers and several of my friends advised me to use it, and it surely put new life into me. Now I am quite able to do all my own work, and I would strongly advise every suffering woman to give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial."—Mrs. CHARLES WAKELIN, 272 Christie St., Toronto, Ont.

The makers of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound have thousands of such letters as that above—they tell the truth, else they could not have been obtained for love or money. This medicine is no stranger—it has stood the test for more than forty years.

Chicago reports the case of an eight-year-old boy with two stomachs. This will cause an enigma in the heart of many a mother who has long suspected little Willie of being just like that.

A dispatch from Castor tells of a cow demolishing a train, and adds the consoling information: Nobody hurt. Yes, yes, but what happened to the cow?

A health officer's statement that the reason mosquitoes are proving a pest in so-called well protected homes, is because the window screens have too large a mesh, is merely another way of saying the manufacturers have made a sad mesh of their job. It is not hard to guess what excuse they would make. No doubt they were meshmerized.

Purchasing power of the dollar based on current prices, was 100 cents when the war began. In July 1915, a year later, it was worth 99 cents; in 1916 its purchasing power was but 91 cents, and it shrank faster and faster. July 1917 found it at 73 cents; July 1918, at 66 cents; July 1919 at but 55 cents. In January 1920, it was worth 50 cents; in April, 48, in July, 47 cents and then came business collapse. By December the purchasing power of a dollar had crept back to 54 cents, and now, if you happen to have a dollar, you will find that it has increased in buying vitality since the first month of this year about 80 per cent. So the financiers figure, and they have studied the matter. —Ex.

It is written in the annals of history that the welfare of the state and its permanence must be based on the home and the family life. It is only when it is so based that the nation can endure; it is only when our ideals about the home grow out of the teachings within the home that we may most effectively conserve the nation.

Perhaps it was part of the plan that the diversion should come at that moment, but the rebellion in Beulah's heart was by no means suppressed. Pulling a sun-bonnet upon her head she called the dog, which came leaping upon her with boisterous affection and hurried down the path to the field where the cows stood almost lost in a jungle of green oats. She soon located the breach in the fence, and with the help of the dog, quickly mended the cows passed it. But Alack! just as victory seemed assured a rabbit was frightened from its hiding place in the green oats, and sailed forth in graceful bounds across the pasture. The dog, of course, concluded that the capture of the rabbit was of much more vital importance to the Harris than the dog, and during any number of sound cattle, and dashed across the field in pursuit, wasting his breath in sharp, eager yelps as he went. When the dog's nose turned outward again, not hesitatingly nor insolently, but with a calm persistence that steadily wore out the girl's strength and patience. She would not move a foot toward the pasture unless she drove them; they would move only one at a time, as she drove one the others pushed farther into the oat-field, and when she turned to pursue them the one she had already driven followed at her heels. The sun was hot, and the air was rank, the buckbuck! ripped her as she ran; her appeals to the dog, now seated on a knoll looking somewhat foolishly for the rabbit which had given him the slip, and she continued to the cattle alike fell on unheeding ears. She was in no joyous mood at best, and the prevaricator of things aggravated her beyond endurance. Her callings to the cattle became more and more fearful, and presently ended in a sob.

"There now, Beulah, don't worry; we will have them in a minute," said a quiet voice, and looking about she found Jim almost at her elbow, his omnipresent smile playing gently about his white teeth. "I was down at the creek filling the tank, when I saw you had a little rebellion on your hands, and I thought, why not agents might be in order."

"You might've hollered farther back," she said, half reproachfully, but there was a light of appreciations in her eye when she dared raise it toward him. "I'm afraid I was beginning to be very—foolish."

She gripped again on the treacherous buckbuck, but he held her as in a strong grasp against which the weight of her slim figure seemed but as a feather blown against a wall. The life of the plains had bred in Beulah admiration for physical strength, and she acknowledged his firm grip with an admiring glance. They then set about their task, but the sober-eyed cows had no thought of being easily deprived of their feast, and it was some time before they were all turned back into the pasture and the fence temporarily repaired behind them.

"I can't thank you enough," Beulah was saying. "You just keep on your kindness on top of another day, Jim, honest, what makes you do it?"

But at that moment the keen blast of an engine whistle came cutting through the air—a long clear note, followed by a series of toots in rapid succession.

"I guess they're running short of water," said Jim. "I must hustle." So saying he ran to the ford of the creek where the tank-wagon was still standing, and in a minute his strong frame was swaying back and forth to the rhythmic clanking of the pump. But it was some minutes before the tank was full, and again the clatter call of the whistle came insistently through the air. Hastily dragging up the hose, he uttered a sharp command to the horses; their great shoulders socketed into the collars; the tugs tightened, quivering with the strain; the wheels grated in the gravel, and the heavily-loaded wagon swung its way up the bank of the coulee.

Meanwhile other things were transpiring. Harris had returned from the night before with the first

Intention of paying an early visit to the Farther West. He and Riles had spent more time than they should breathing the village air, while the latter drew a picture of rising colour of the possibilities which the new lands afforded. Harris was not a man who abused himself with liquor, and Riles, too, rarely forgot that indulgence by too expensive, and had to be paid for in cash. Moreover, Allan occasioned his father some uneasiness. He was young, and had not the self-control to be expected in later life. More than once of late Allan had crossed the boundary of moderation, and John Harris, by means indifferent to the welfare of his only son. Indeed, the bond between the two was so real and so intense that Harris had never been able to bring himself to contemplate their separation, and the boy had not even so much as thought of establishing a home of his own. Harris wondered at this, for Allan was popular in the neighborhood, where his good appearance, strength, and sincere honesty made him somewhat of a favourite. The idea of home-coming together after years of their years of close relationship between father and son, and the younger man lay in wholeheartedly with it.

"Well, hurry up the ploughing, Dad, and run West before the harvest is on us," Allan said as they rode home through the darkness. "We can sit on our hind and get back for the fall work. Then we will go out for the winter and commence our duties. The only question is, Can they grow anything on that land out there?"

"That's what they used to ask when we came to Manitoba," said the father. "And there were some years that I doubted the answer myself. Some parts were first year after year, and they're among the best in the country now, and never think of rest. The same thing'll happen out there, and we might as well be in the game."

To do him justice, it was not altogether the desire for more wealth that prompted Harris. It was the call of nature; the call he had heard and answered in his early eighties; the old appetite that had lain dormant for a quarter of a century, but was still in his blood, waiting only a suggestion of the open spaces, a whiff from the dry grass on the wind-swept plains, the zigzag of a wagon-trail streaking afar into the horizon, to set it tingling again. The thought of homesteading revived rich old memories—memories from which the kind years had bled the soreness and the privation and the hardship, and left only the joy and the courage and the comradeship and the conquering. It was the call of the new land, which has led the race into every clime and flung its flag beneath every sky, and Harris's soul again leaped to the summons.

So this morning father and son were especially anxious that not a moment of their ploughing weather should be lost, and it was particularly aggravating when the hired man's long delay resulted in a hubbub sputter followed by a dry hiss from the injector, warning the engineer that the water-tank was empty. Allan shot an anxious glance down the road to the coulee, but the water team was not in sight. Seizing the while cord, he sent its peremptory summons into the air. Harris looked up from the ploughs, and the two exchanged frowns of annoyance. But the water stood high in the glass, and Allan did not reduce the speed, although he cut the link action another notch to get every ounce of advantage from the expansion. Down the field they went, the big iron horse shouldering itself irresistibly along, while the ploughs left their dozen furrows of moist, fresh soil, and the blackbirds hopped gluggerly behind. But the water went down, down in the glass, and still there was no sign of a further supply. Allan again cut the air with his whistle, and at length, with a muttered imprecation, he slammed the throttle shut and jumped from the engine.

His father ran up from the ploughs. "What do you think of that?" the younger man exclaimed. "Jim must have been kidding. Begged, or broke a tongue, or something. Never fell down like that before."

"Keep a keen eye on your fire," said Harris, "and I'll go down and see what's wrong with him." So the farmer strode off across the ploughed field. The delay annoyed him, and he felt unreasonably cross with Travers. As he plodded on through the heavy soil his temper did not improve, and he was talking to himself by the time he came upon Travers, giving his team their wind at the top of the hill leading up from the creek. "What kept you?" he demanded.

when he came within a rod of the wagon. "Here's the outfit shut down waiting for water, and you—"

"I'm sorry, Mr. Harris—"

"That ain't what I asked you. You can't make steam with sorrow. What have you been fooling about?"

"I haven't been fooling. As to what delayed me—well, you're delaying me now. Better jump on and ride up with me."

"So you won't tell me, eh? You think you can do what you like with my team and my time, and it's none of my business. We'll see whose business it is."

Harris came threateningly toward the wagon, but was met only by the smiling smile of his hired man. He thrust his foot on a spoke of the wheel and prepared to spring on to the tank, but at that moment the horses started, and his foot slipped. Seeing that the farmer was about to fall Travers seized him by the collar of his shirt, but in so doing he leaned and lost his own balance, when the weight of the falling farmer came upon him, and the two tumbled on to the grass in each other's arms.

Allan, having satisfied himself that the engine would take no harm, had followed his father, and came over the crest of the ridge above the coulee just in time to see Jim apparently strike the engine with the two struggling on the grass together. In an instant the young man's hot blood was in his head; he rushed forward, and just as Jim had risen to his knees he struck him a stinging blow in the face that measured him again in the grass.

It was only for an instant. Travers sprang to his feet, a red line showing stretching down his cheek as he did so. Allan came upon him swinging his fist, but Jim caught it, and answered with a smash from the shoulder straight on the chin, which laid his adversary's six feet prostrate before him.

Allan rose slowly, sober but determined, and for a moment it looked as though a battle would ensue. He fought on the spot, both men strong, lean, rigid, hard as iron, and quick as steel; Allan angry, careful, furious; Jim calm, confident and still smiling. But Harris rushed between them and seized his son by the arms.

"Stop it, Allan; stop, I say. You mustn't fight. Jim didn't hit me—I'll say that. But he's a queer fellow. As for you," (turning to Jim), "I'm sorry for this, but you have yourself to blame. I'll give you one more chance to settle your quarrel quietly. As for you," (turning to Jim), "I'm sorry for this, but you have yourself to blame. I'll give you one more chance to settle your quarrel quietly."

"I don't choose to answer," was Jim's reply, spoken in the most casual tone. His eye was rapidly closing, but his white teeth still glared at him as he hid a smile.

"All right," said Harris. "You can go to the house and tell Mrs. Harris to pay you. It is now a great deal better than the reus himself."

When Jim entered the kitchen he was received with a questioning look by Mrs. Harris and Beulah. "Why, whatever has happened?" they exclaimed. "Has there been an accident?"

But Jim smiled, and said: "No accident at all. I have merely decided to go homesteading. And he went up the stairs to pack his belongings. (To be continued)

Regina Man Thinks He Would Be Selfish Not To Relate Experience

"When a man has been benefited by a medicine like I have been by Tanlac, I think it would be selfish of him not to come out and tell what he knows," said Aleck G. Munro, 1261 McTavish street, Regina, Sask.

"I haven't words to describe what I went through with on account of indigestion. No matter how careful I was about what I ate or how little I ate, I was sure to be bloated up with gas afterwards. Sometimes my breath would be cut off so I could scarcely breathe. I actually got to the point where I dreaded to go to the table, and I shudder now when I think of how I suffered."

"I feel like a new man now, though, thanks to Tanlac. Actually this medicine has done me more good than I ever dreamed was possible. I never have any trouble from indigestion now, although I have a splendid appetite. I sleep all night long without waking once, and get up in the morning feeling fine and I work better than I have in years. I certainly advise people who suffer as I did to take Tanlac. I am confident it will help them."

"Tanlac is sold by leading druggists everywhere."

The Empire's Growth

Poison of Bolshevism Has Not Hindered Britain's Advance.

Great Britain could not have obtained victory without the Dominions; and now that astonishing organism, the Empire—which has grown almost as hazard to its majestic strength manifests an integrity and vitality beyond the challenge of enmity or the spite of fate. But one imminent peril remains, the peril not of external attack, but of internal disease. Since war ceased we have passed through a crisis even greater than that of the war itself. The poison of Bolshevism has spread deep, if we may believe that its influence has begun to decline. "The eternal economic truth that men cannot reap where they have not sown" is beginning to prevail in minds which had been half-persuaded that the distribution of wealth was all that mattered; and that the production of wealth would take care of itself. If this country has not been reduced to the condition of Russia today, it is not the fault of the disciples of Lenin and Trotsky, but of the London Morning Post.

The women of Java are being taught western theories of equality with men. The progress of the suffrage movement is necessarily slow, but many believe in its ultimate success. Patronize your local merchant and thereby help to build up your home town and community.

Women's Limitations.

Men would think more favorably of woman suffrage if a woman could spread a stepladder so that it would not spread and leave her clinging to the top shelf.

CHANGE OF WATER WAS THE CAUSE OF DIARRHOEA

People moving from place to place are very much subject to diarrhoea on account of the change of water, climate, diet, etc. Prompt treatment with

WILD STRAWBERRY

In such cases relieves the pain, checks the diarrhoea, and thus does away with the suffering, the weakness and often-times collapse associated with an attack of this kind. It does this by checking the too frequent and irritating stools, settling the stomach and bracing up the weakened system, thus rendering it without a peer for the treatment of all bowel complaints of both old and young.

Mrs. Ernest S. Beaton, Gresham, Sask., writes: "Coming out here from the East, my two little girls took very sick, the change of water, etc., giving them diarrhoea. They were so sick, and used to vomit everything they would take, so I finally got a bottle of Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry, and I must say it certainly helped them. I have also used it when my children were teething and it is all you claim for it."

70 years reputation stands behind this remedy. Price, 50c a bottle. Put up only by The F. M. Munn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

One of the best known guides in Nova Scotia gives this testimonial of MINARD'S LINIMENT:

"I have used Minard's Liniment in my home, hunting and lumber camps for years, and consider it the best white liniment on the market. I find that it gives quick relief to minor ailments, such as sprains, bruises and all kinds of wounds. Also it is a great remedy for coughs, colds, etc., which one is liable to catch when log driving and cruising during the winter and spring months. I would not be without MINARD'S LINIMENT and cannot recommend it too highly. (Signed) Elfrison Gray."

The Richest Village.

Shaw, the Lancashire mill village which invested so much money in War Loan that it was hailed as the richest township in England, during the war, has saved £3 11s. 6d. per head of the population for this year's holidays. Last year £4 13s. per head was saved a record. One club alone, the Cooperative Society, has distributed £29,000.

Spare the children from suffering from worms by using Miller's Worm Powders, a most effective vermifuge with which to combat these insidious foes of the young and helpless. It is an excellent worm destroyer, and when its qualities become known in a household no other will be used. The medicine acts by itself, requiring no purgative to assist it, and so thoroughly that nothing more is desired.

Terrific Explosion Wrecks Chemical Plant At Oppau, Germany

Mayence.—A great explosion at the chemical products plant of the Badische Anilin- und Fabrik Company at Oppau, on the Rhine, wrecked the town and spread death and destruction on every hand. The number killed is variously estimated at from 1,000 to 1,500 and the injured close to two thousand. One report says that there were 3,000 men on the spot at the moment of the explosion and it is believed that about half of these were killed.

The town of Oppau is a scene of utter desolation, more than a third of the houses having been completely demolished, while the roofs of the others were swept off as if by a whirlwind. Here also many were killed or injured.

The explosion is attributed by some to excess pressure in gasoline meters, the whole of this part of the works being literally pulverized. Where the gasometers stood is now a funnel shaped hole 130 yards wide and 45 yards deep, while twisted girders and debris of every description lie scattered about. For a distance of several hundred yards, not a wall is left standing.

The directorate of the company is quoted as saying that the explosion occurred in a storehouse containing four thousand tons of nitrous sulphates, which had previously been examined and was believed to be free from danger of explosion. All the workmen's dwellings in the city were razed to the ground. At Mannheim, on the opposite side of the river, 35 persons were seriously injured and two hundred or more suffered minor injuries. Ludwigshafen reports say that three workmen's trains were buried under the wreckage, and many children on their way to school in that town were injured.

Mayence.—A late statement issued by the management of the Oppau factory says that the explosion occurred in a reservoir containing 200 tons of ammonium sulphate. It adds that all necessary precautions had been taken during the process of manufacture and storing the product, so that an explosion appeared impossible.

Russian Scouts Ask For Famine Aid

Send Appeal For Starving Children to Canadian Scouts.

Chita.—The Russian boy scouts are sending a message to the Canadian scouts appealing to them to organize famine aid. Many children have been sent here from the Volga country this month. They will be apportioned among private families as the Chita Government is not able to provide for them owing to its lack of funds.

The children coming from the interior of Russia brought a little food with them. An analysis of their bread shows that it was made of a mixture of sorrel, grass and a trace of bran.

According to reports received here in the ten governments in the valley of the Volga there are 90,000,000 persons starving.

Food Is Cheaper In England

Shopkeepers Also lowering Prices of Dry Goods.

London.—While the general tendency of retail prices in England is downward, complaint has been made that the licensed victuallers are now charging more for beer and whiskey although the cost of brewing materials has decreased. Shopkeepers are generally lowering their prices of food stuffs and dry goods in consequence of the announced drop in current wholesale quotations.

In many cases this means a sacrifice of profit on the retailers' part, but it is pointed out that many of the retailers who are most reluctant now were among the first to mark up their existing stocks when prices were rising.

Plan To Reclaim Lands In B. C.

Would Bring About Thirty Thousand Acres Under Cultivation.

Recently there appeared in the press a despatch from Victoria, B.C., stating that at a joint conference of the drainage officials of the State of Idaho and the Province of British Columbia, an agreement had been entered into which would assure finish-up investigation work to determine the feasibility or otherwise of draining 60,000 acres of land in the Kootenay River Valley, approximately half of which area lies in Idaho and the other half in British Columbia.

Looking solely at the 30,000 acres on the Canadian side of the boundary line, to the average prairie dweller the bringing of this area—less than 50 sections—under cultivation is a matter of hardly more than passing moment; in many parts of the west the swinging of such a project nowadays would get scant attention except for local publicity purposes.

In British Columbia, however, 30,000-acre tracts of continuous agricultural land of outstanding fertility is very much the exception, rather than the rule, the probability of ultimately bringing such an area under production is attracting almost province-wide attention; in some measure due to the fact that the best reclaimed lands are located in the very heart of a territory that rather badly needs agricultural products of the sorts this overflooded territory can produce in both quantity and quality.

The cause of this annual overflow of the area is simply a matter of too large an intake of water and too small an outlet for the spring floods. The Kootenay River, with its tributaries, draining the whole of the western slopes of the Rocky Mountains in B.C. and the Selkirk ranges, after a bold sweep southward running into the United States as far as Bonners Ferry, Idaho, from that point turns directly north again to B.C. and Kootenay Lake. At the same time the Lardo River and others run into the lake at the other end and the combined volume of water passes out toward the centre of the lake by a passage called the West Arm, like the downward stroke of a gigantic T, past Nelson and Bonnington Falls to join the Columbia River.

The reclamation has solely to do with the enlarging of the lake's outlet. In 1913 a preliminary survey was made by Engineer Muerling, who in his findings reported favorably on the project but asked for a more thorough examination of the whole territory before making a final decision. With the outbreak of the war the next year the scheme was, for the time being, abandoned. American engineers have also spent two seasons on the work, and their report made public two years ago, was strongly in favor of the work being proceeded with, the estimated cost being a little over $2,000,000.

The land is in one of the older settled parts of B.C. interior, already supplied with railway communication by the Crow's Nest line, has good highways, educational facilities and every modern convenience, so that the province would be at no expense in providing these. The bench lands surrounding this now-reclaimed area is one of the finest fruit areas in all B.C. The climate is ideal.

The entire area in B.C. is government-owned land, and the Board of Trade at Creston which for years has been urging its reclamation expects the provincial lands department—if the lands are drained—to adopt a policy of selling the tract in not larger than 40-acre farms to bona fide farmer settlers, at a price that will just nicely suffice to meet the full cost of draining the area. As to the cost of the work it has been agreed that the U.S. and British Columbia interests will pay this pro rata on the basis of acres reclaimed.

Toronto.—The Canadian Legion of Veterans which is destined to form a medium through which all Canadian ex-service men and women may unite as members of one veteran's organization becomes a definite unity as a result of action taken at a recent meeting of the provisional committee, voted to proceed with the organization of the legion, they at the same time stipulated that such organization should constitute only a holding body "until such time as an amalgamation becomes an accepted fact."

British Government Charges Russian Soviet With Breach Of Faith

Canadian Loan To China

Agreement Recently Signed Has Raised Important Issues.

London.—The Times correspondent at Peking says that important issues have been raised in the agreement recently signed in that city by which a Canadian banking syndicate will lend the Republic of China $3,000,000 gold against one-year bonds, secured on various enterprises. It is noted that the discount and interest give a return to the Canadian investors of a rate exceeding 20 per cent. per annum.

The correspondent says that the transaction seems to be in order except that the concertum of the powers formed to regulate the question of a loan to China has not been consulted and that the loan is a direct negation of the British Government's policy in China.

It is pointed out, however, that the Canadian Government is not a party to the concertum agreement between Great Britain, United States, France and Japan, and may feel under no obligation to observe its terms.

Nevertheless, foreign parties to the concertum will naturally take the view, says the correspondent, that if the Canadian loan goes through, the British Government will be subscribing to one policy with the right and totally different policy with the left. The concertum agreement must end if all parties to it do likewise.

Disorders In Vienna

Crowd Incensed At Profiteering In Foreign Exchange Values.

Vienna.—Serious disorders occurred in this city following the closing of the bourse. Many rushes were made upon the entrances to the building, but these were checked by the police. The crowds then wrecked the shops of several money changers in the vicinity, while a few men suspected of speculating in foreign exchange were dragged from their automobiles and beaten.

Impromptu mass meetings were addressed by speakers, who declared the bourse would be closed permanently if profiteering in foreign exchange values did not cease.

Will Not Visit Canada.

London.—There is no question as to the Prince of Wales visiting Canada on his return journey from his tour of India as he will follow the same route homeward as on his outward voyage, namely, via the Suez Canal.

Warns Irish Taxpayers.

Belfast.—Irish Republican authorities have warned the people of some of the districts of Ireland to refuse to pay income taxes to British collectors until the Dail Eireann has reached a decision on that subject.

London.—The British Government has despatched a strongly-worded note to Moscow calling the attention of the Soviet Government to alleged breaches of faith involved in the pursuance by the Russians throughout Central Asia and Afghanistan of a campaign of intrigues hostile towards Great Britain. An explanation is demanded.

The note details fully the alleged hostile acts complained of. Most of them were in Afghanistan.

The note, which was written by the foreign minister, Earl Curzon, details a number of flagrant violations of Russia's undertaking under the trade agreement with Great Britain to cease anti-British propaganda and particularly enumerates the activities of the Third Internationale of Moscow in India and Afghanistan, quoting in substantiation thereof a statement by M. Stalin, president of the eastern section of the Third Internationale, urging the eastern secretariat to devote itself to undermining the external power of England and France.

The gravest charge pertains to the Russo-Afghan treaty and M. Chicherin's insistence upon a clause in this treaty providing for the opening of consulates in Eastern Afghanistan.

Lord Curzon says the Government possesses indisputable evidence that these treaties are regarded by the Soviet Government as prospective centres of propaganda and also has evidence of the activities of Jamal Pasha sent to Afghanistan by the Soviet to provide the hostile tribesmen with funds, arms and ammunition. The British foreign secretary asks for definite assurance that these activities, constituting breaches of the trade agreement, shall cease.

The note declares that the Soviet used every persuasion to prevent the Angora Government from arriving at a peaceful solution with the Entente powers and assembled considerable forces on the borders of Anatolia, suggesting that they should be sent into Anatolia for the support of the Kemalists.

Fire Destroys Lumber Stocks

Loss of Ontario Company Will Be Heavy.

Parry Sound, Ont.—Fire destroyed the mill and lumber stocks of the Conger Lumber Company, as well as a large number of boats, canoes and boat-houses, along the waterfront. For a time the town itself was threatened with destruction, but the wind that blew from the southeast aided the fire fighters.

Besides the mill and machinery, the loss includes six million feet of lumber, four million pieces of lath, piles, slabs or other mill products, as well as barns, stables, dwellings, tramway and railway spur-lines. The extent of the loss, which has not yet been estimated, is partly covered by insurance. About eighty men will be thrown out of employment.

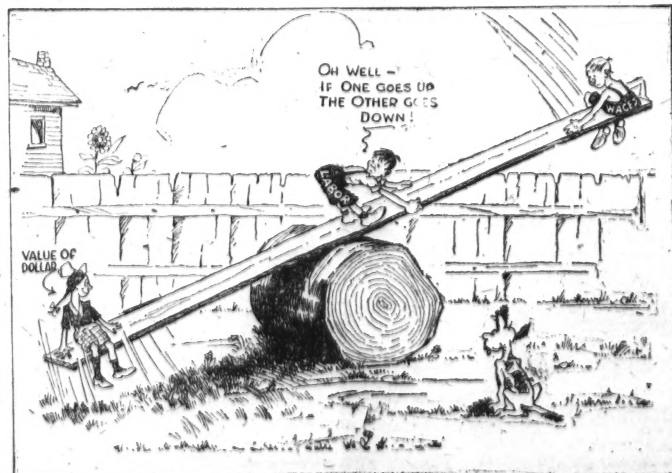

Five Days On Wreck

Fisherman Rescues Woman, Sole Survivor of Sloop.

St. Vincent, Windward Island.—A woman passenger was the sole survivor of the sloop Coronation, wrecked while bound from St. Lucia to Grenada. The sloop encountered a terrific storm September 8 and was dismasted. The woman remained clinging to the hull after all the others had been swept away. Drifting through high seas, the vessel finally stranded on a reef on the Grenadines, and after five days in her perilous position the woman was discovered by a fisherman, who rescued her.

Choosing Future Queen

Prince of Wales Will Not Be Forced Into Matrimony.

The public never tires of providing the Prince of Wales with wives; it is a favorite amusement not only with women but with men. I was told in confidence who the embryo Princess really is the other day. I shall not betray the confidence, but may say it is a girl whose engagement to quite another young man will soon be announced. Yet I was assured the information came from a member of His Royal Highness's household direct to my informant. So much for social tips, which are about as reliable as racing tips. The Prince is not going to be either hurried or coerced into matrimony. When the announcement of his engagement is made it will be sudden and surprising—we may be sure of that—and it will not please everybody!—Belfast Weekly News.

World's Finest Diamond

Was Given to King Edward by Transvaal Government.

The largest diamond in the world is the Cullinan diamond, given to King Edward by the Transvaal Government in 1907. The stone was presented to King Edward in token of the loyalty and appreciation of the people of the Transvaal for the bestowal of the constitution on the colony. It was unearthed at the Jaegersfontein mine, Orange River Colony, South Africa, in 1905. In its rough state it weighed 3,025 carats, or 1 1/3 pounds. Amsterdam diamond cutters made nine large stones and several smaller ones from it. The largest still weighs 516 1/2 carats and is said to be the most valuable and brilliant diamond in human possession today.

Error In Report.

A discrepancy of 100,000,000 bushels in the crop yield estimate of the Dominion Bureau of Statistics is revealed by officials of the Saskatchewan Co-operative Elevator Company. Quoting the estimated wheat yield for the Dominion this year as 294,000,000 bushels, the Dominion Bureau's report says that the total may be greater than the aggregate in 1915, which, by the Bureau's own figures was 393,000,000 bushels.

A MOTHER'S ADVICE

Once a mother has used Baby's Own Tablets for her little ones she is always happy to recommend them to others. Her advice, given after a careful trial, can be readily followed with assured good results. The Tablets are a mild but thorough laxative which never fail to regulate the bowels and sweeten the stomach. They always do good—they cannot possibly do harm—even to the youngest babe. Conservatively advised, Dr. P. Laforest, St. Nazaire, Que., writes:—"For three months my baby was constipated and cried continually. On the advice of a friend I gave him Baby's Own Tablets and now at the age of five months he is perfectly well and weighs twenty pounds. I am delighted to be able to advise other mothers to use them." The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Canadian Wool Has Good Reputation

High Quality Appreciated by States and Overseas Markets.

A virtual revolution has been wrought in the wool industry of Canada in the past few years. Whereas but a short while ago the wool produced in Canada was offered for sale in such an unsatisfactory state that the Canadian manufacturer looked with indifference upon the home-grown product, today he realizes that with that of any other country and more than half of the domestic production finds its way to Canadian mills. Not only is the high quality of the Canadian product appreciated locally now but in the United States and the overseas markets it is now generally recognized that Canadian sheepmen are producing wool the equal of similar classes and grades grown elsewhere in the world. Gradually but surely a reputation has been built up for Canadian fleeces wool for the domestic and foreign markets.

The patriotic man is loyal to his country and to the community in which he lives. If he is consistent he will give first preference to Canadian made goods when making purchases. He will also stand loyally by his local dealer.

Gingham and Cretonne United

By Marie Belmont.

This youthful frock shows the effective use of cretonne as a trimming. It is fashioned on very simple lines that affect the much-liked chemise dress. The frock is made of orchid-colored gingham, although should you wish you might copy it in any other color that may be more becoming to yourself. It is fastened down the back with self-covered buttons. The deep border and flat collar are cut from cretonne which has a lavender and green grape design. The three-quarter sleeve is finished with a flaring cuff of the cretonne. A giraffe of bright green ribbon encircles the waistline.

The asthmatic who has found out the dependability of this sterling remedy will never be without it. It is sold everywhere.

First Baby Travels to Paris.

Among the passengers on the Croydon-Paris aeroplane was a baby girl just 5 1/2 months old, who was going to France with her parents. This is the first baby in arms to travel by the Continental airway. Frieda Inglis, as she is called, lay quite contentedly in her mother's arms, and did not appear to be in the least frightened by the roar of the giant engines.

The Man Who Said: "The proof of the pudding is in the eating"—was only half through

He started a good pudding-proof, but he didn't finish it.

There's a lot of trouble in the world from puddings that taste good but don't do good.

They "eat" well, but that ends the recommendation.

Sanitariums are full of pudding-eaters who stopped the test at taste and forgot to inquire whether their food gave the body what it needed—until the body rebelled.
